

GREEN ENERGIE KER

Dear Valued Customers,

we are proudly announcing you that we became member of the US Green Building Council .

We have always been ECO FRIENDLY and now we are making all the necessary steps to get it officially certified starting from the requirements for LEED certification.

Effective immediately we will apply in all our merchandising tools the USGBC logo , and of course you we will keep you informed for all our future GREEN ENERGIEKER STEPS.

Sincerely yours

The United States Green Building Council (USGBC) is an independent organization that is generally accepted as the leading source of green building standards for the US.

They have established Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) standard practice guidelines.

We are now a national member of the USGBC.
